A. INTRODUCTION

Regional Water Safety - A Community Approach

Water Safety New Zealand Inc (WSNZ) was formed in 1949 and is a nationally recognized organisation responsible for ensuring all New Zealanders have the water safe skills and behaviours necessary to use and enjoy the water safely.

WSNZ promotes water safety education as an issue for all New Zealanders and advocates that the impact and incidence of drownings can be reduced through a mix of educational initiatives. Improving public awareness of the environment and its potential risk factors, highlighting areas of skill improvement and supporting technological advances are some of the key aims of WSNZ.

One of the fundamental undertakings of WSNZ is the public education of water safety within New Zealand. In the past education has proven to be the most effective and efficient way to promote and improve water safety. WSNZ supports the notion that education is not only about learning to do what is safe but also about empowering people to make safe decisions in, on and under the water.

In 2007 Water Safety New Zealand (WSNZ) initiated the development of regional water safety education forums. These forums became a place whereby its members and other stakeholders in water safety could meet to discuss water safety education within their communities. As a result of these discussions individual regional water safety education plans were developed. These plans mapped and identified water safety education initiatives occurring within regions, as well as identifying gaps and opportunities for future consideration.

The vision of these forums is to improve water safety education as well as reduce the incidence of drowning and water related injuries within New Zealand.

Each year two regional forums are held. One is held before summer commencing in October and at summer's end in April. As well as being the key contact organisation for the forums, WSNZ has undertaken the responsibility of facilitating all aspects of these forums.

B. WSNZ TACTICAL BUSINESS PLANNING 2009-2012

WSNZ has developed a tactical business plan (see Appendix 1) which outlines the tasks WSNZ intends to undertake within territorial local authorities. This plan also forms the basis of reporting to the WSNZ Board. (Copies can be obtained from www.watersafety.org.nz/regional/index.asp)

Community collaboration and partnership is an important determinant towards the achievement of WSNZ "Desired Outcomes" and the reduction of drowning and water related injuries within New Zealand.

C. ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF FORUM PARTICIPANTS

The water safety backgrounds, roles and responsibilities of forum participants are many and varied and have not been specifically detailed in the plan. However information is readily available by contacting respective forum members. (refer to Appendix 2 and 4).

It is important to note, Water Safety New Zealand has 36 members (See Appendix 2 ). Some organizations such as Water Safety New Zealand itself, are wholly concerned with water safety while others have several broad roles - for example surf lifesaving, which has surf rescue, surf sports and surf safety education with water safety education being but one of its community services.

D. THE SOUTHLAND WATER SAFETY PLAN 2009-2012

The Southland Water Safety Education Plan is a living document that has been developed by Southland water safety organisations and community leaders who have an interest in water safety within the Southland Region. (It is a 'living' document in the sense that it is revised on a regular basis according to feedback received from Forum participants)

Water Safety New Zealand staff will facilitate the planning process for the two Water Safety Forums as well as map and update water safety initiatives within the Southland Region. They will also act as the key contact organisation for these forums and the associated regional plans.

E. PURPOSE OF THE WATER SAFETY PLAN

The purpose of the plan is to:

1. Coordinate regional initiatives so that they are in alignment with the strategic planning of WSNZ and the Drowning Prevention Strategy. This strategic direction is set out overleaf as Strategic Foundations – Southland Water Safety Education Plan 2009 – 2012.
2. Identify, map, develop and meet the water safety needs of the Southland region.
3. Aim to develop programmes relevant and specific for the needs of Southland region.
4. Bring together members of the Southland water safety community, Whanua, Hapu and Iwi, with the aim of fostering collaboration and partnership.
5. Market water safety programmes, activities and resources to schools, Whanua, Hapu and Iwi, and the wider community where appropriate.

F. BACKGROUND

The Southland Water Safety Education Plan is aligned with the strategic planning of both WSNZ and the Drowning Prevention Strategy.

Water Safety New Zealand– Strategic Direction

“Vision: Everyone will have water safety skills and behaviours necessary to use and enjoy the water safely

Mission: Through water safety education, prevent injury and drowning

Purpose: To lead water safety education in the Southland region

GOALS

1. Leadership
  - a. To be the recognised leader in the effective advocacy of water safety education to the community
2. Education
  - a. The WSNZ collective to be respected leaders and advocates in the coordination and provision of quality water safety education
3. Collaboration
  - a. To develop and maintain strong collaborative relationships within WSNZ to enhance the development, delivery and experience of water safety education
  - b. To develop and maintain strong collaborative relationships between WSNZ, government and community leaders to support water safety education outcomes”<sup>1</sup>

Drowning Prevention Strategy - Strategic Direction

Vision:                A WATER SAFE NEW ZEALAND, FREE FROM DROWNING
A WATER SAFETY CULTURE ESTABLISHED IN NEW ZEALAND

“Goal 1:                Provision of effective Leadership by the water safety sector and government

Objective 1:            To provide strategic direction and effective coordination for the water safety sector”<sup>1</sup>

Objective 2:            To ensure an appropriate water safety infrastructure

Objective 3:            To ensure an appropriate level and distribution of resourcing<sup>2</sup> for water safety initiatives and agencies

Objective 4:            To improve quality water safety emergency rescue services

Goal 2:                Delivery of Exceptional Water Safety Services

Objective 5:            To provide quality water safety emergency rescue services

Objective 6:            To provide quality water safety education and awareness

Objective 7:            To create safer environments in, on under and around water

Objective 8:            To enhance community and sector engagement in water safety initiatives

<sup>2</sup> Unless otherwise specified, resourcing includes financial, equipment, materials and people.

G. PRINCIPLES UNDERPINNING THE PLANNING PROCESS

The following principles are guidelines for water safety planning in the Southland Region.

1. The content of the plan is aligned with the strategic directions of WSNZ and ACC previously described.
2. Education is the preferred means of reducing drowning both in the short and long term.
3. The plan is specific to and focused on water safety initiatives in the Southland Region that aims to meet needs identified by the community.
4. Programmes, activities and resources are delivered by certified/trained instructors from water safety organisations to community groups, early childhood centres, and people with physical and /or intellectual disabilities and schools with assistance from Water Safety New Zealand where support is required.
5. Keep Southland Water Safety initiatives sustainable within its urban and rural communities.
6. Best practice and evidence is utilised to promote and lead water safety intervention in the Southland Region.
7. While the plan has a three year outlook and goals, it has a strong focus on annual delivery.
8. The Plan recognises key geographical and demographic features of the Southland Region. See Section H.

H. THE SOUTHLAND REGION

Southland<sup>1</sup> is a vast natural playground, a diverse environment that supports a myriad of industries, lifestyles and recreational pursuits. The region includes Invercargill City, the Gore District Council and New Zealand's newest national treasure, Stewart Island/Rakiura National Park.

It encompasses a total land area of 3,035,577 ha, with a population of just under 100,000. Southland's 3400km of coast (more than any other region) provides habitat, recreation and a base for a growing marine industry, which includes marine farming and international tourism. Rivers traverse the land and spill into the mighty lakes of Te Anau, Manapouri and Hauroko, New Zealand's deepest lake.

Every year, more than a million visitors come to admire the beauty and abundance of Southland's environment from our world heritage parks, internationally recognised wetlands, our great walks and ancient forests.

The area encompasses four local councils – Environment Southland, Gore District Council, Invercargill City Council and the Southland District Council.

Total population<sup>1</sup>

- 90,873 people live in Southland Region. This is a decrease of 129 people, or 0.1 percent, since the 2001 Census.
- Its population ranks 11th in size out of the 16 regions in New Zealand.
- Southland Region has 2.3 percent of New Zealand's population.

Population of Southland Region and New Zealand, 2006 Census

	Region/City/District	New Zealand
Male	45,171	1,965,618
Female	45,702	2,062,329
Total	90,876	4,027,947

Māori ethnic population

- 10,422 Māori live in Southland Region, an increase of 384 people, or 3.8 percent, since the 2001 Census.
- Its Māori population ranks 12th in size out of the 16 regions in New Zealand.
- 1.8 percent of New Zealand's Māori population usually live in Southland Region.

Māori Population of Southland Region and New Zealand, 2006 Census

	Region/City/District	New Zealand
Male	5,280	274,860
Female	5,139	290,466
Total	10,422	565,329

Note: The Māori ethnic population is the count for people of the Māori ethnic group. It includes those people who stated Māori as being either their sole ethnic group or one of several ethnic groups.

I. THE ANNUAL PLANNING CYCLE FOR THE SOUTHLAND REGION

Planning is developed, updated and an evaluation is undertaken at two Water Safety Forums held before summer commences in October and at summer's end in April.

J. PLANNING TASKS TO BE COMPLETED AT THE MAY 2011 FORUM

1. Drowning and associated data is reviewed and analysed. See Appendix 3.
2. Forum attendees will update their programmes, activities and resources available for delivery in the 2011/2012 year. New initiatives will be included and where appropriate out of date programmes/resources deleted. See Appendix 4.
3. Where appropriate forum attendees will participate in a needs analysis which will identify and map possible areas of development within their communities. Refer Appendix 5.
4. Forum attendees will update the Delivery Plan for the period 1 October to 31 March. Refer Appendix 6.

K. PLANNING TASKS TO BE COMPLETE AT THE OCTOBER 2011 FORUM

1. Drowning and associated data is reviewed and analysed. See Appendix 3.
2. Forum Attendees will update their programmes, activities and resources available for delivery in the 2010/2011 year. New initiatives will be included and where appropriate out of date programmes/resources deleted. See Appendix 4.
3. Where appropriate forum attendees will evaluate the programmes initiated subsequent to the October Forum and participate in a needs analysis which will identify and map additional areas of development within their communities. Refer Appendix 5.
4. Forum attendees will update the Delivery Plan for the period 1 April to the 30 September. Refer Appendix 6.

L. CONCLUSION

Many challenges face water safety within New Zealand however through coordinated partnership, effective planning and needs analysis, improved water safety can be achieved.
